Forecast type: realistic

Created at: Tuesday, June 16, 2015

Author: Natalie Stargazer

This is a general forecast for the next 3 years, describing the most significant and enduring trends in your life that will materialize, be remembered and influence your life direction. The file doesn't contain specific dates, but shows the trend of your development regardless of location and moves. Ages indicated are approximate. The most important things are described in the section «Significant events», and dynamics of events are displayed in graphs by area of life.

If the forecast mentions people who are no longer alive (parents, spouses, relatives), then it means people who replace them (guardians, godparents) or people who are similar in their character.

Note:

- Important trends that indicate the fundamental events of the period are highlighted in black, – this is the most important things that will happen to you. These trends may continue for 2 years. Anything else will last no more than 3 months.
- Positive trends are highlighted in green, use it as an inspiration. These include events that go well and represent favorable opportunities that fill you with energy. Make the most of them.
- Negative trends that will require a lot of your energy are highlighted in red. These include areas of life from which you shouldn't expect much. This is a sign that you need rest, rethinking and mobilizing resources to solve the problem. This is also an opportunity to alleviate tension, because you will know about it in advance. Don't focus on the negative. Make the most of your strengths and favorable forecast events.
- Both stressful and pleasant events can occur in the same area of your life during the year.
- If an event is mentioned several times, it will create a great resonance.

Paragraph headings (for example, «Good + Profit») are used to structure the text and indicate the sphere of life to which the described event relates.

The most important events of the period

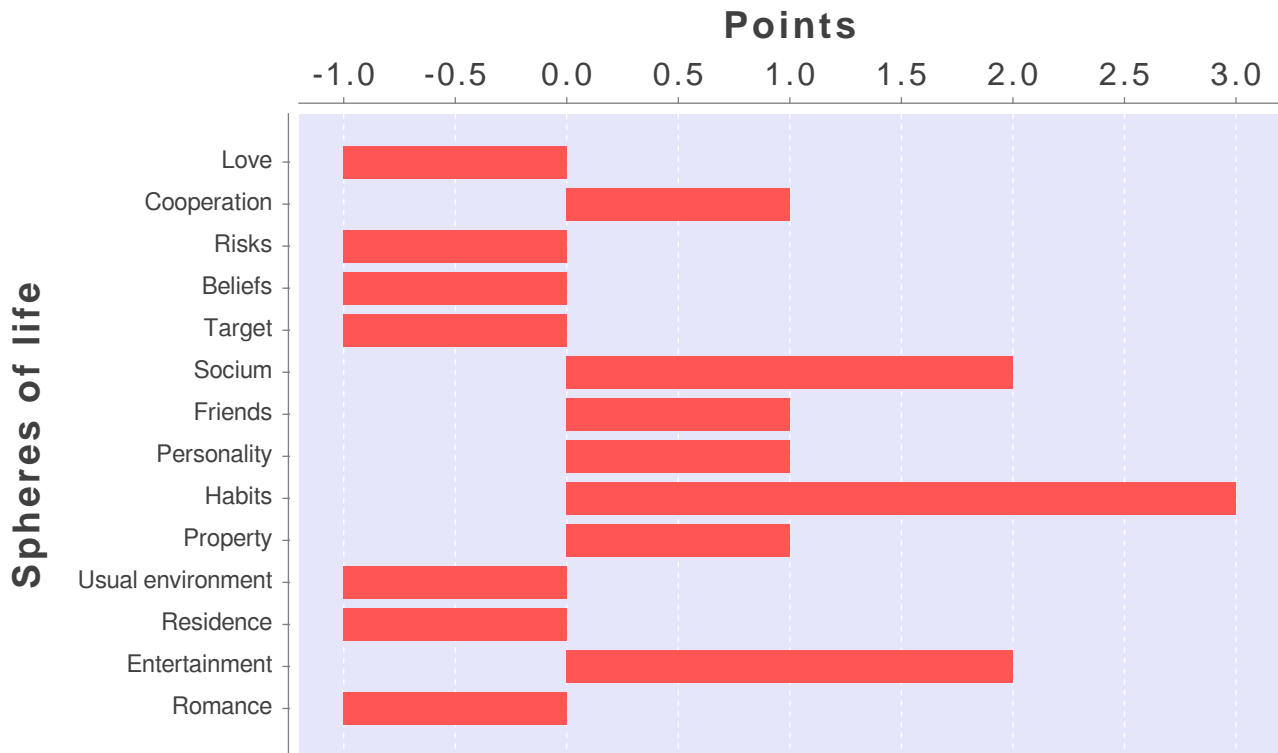

To see the most important events of coming years, read the «Significant events» section of each year.

Age of 17

2.1. 17 age diagram

The diagram summarizes information about your age events and indicates which areas of life will be relevant throughout the year:

- Scores above zero indicate success and ease
- Zero values indicate neutral situations
- Scores below zero indicate difficulties and stress

The forecast for these areas of life is given below

2.2. Significant events at the age 17

The section describes vital, long-awaited, turning-point events, that will occur at the age 17. They will entail changes and will be remembered for a long time

2.2.1. Personality = Pride

During this period, your individuality and charisma will be especially strongly expressed. You will feel a surge of vitality and feed others with the energy (you'll become an energy donor). If you want to focus on your own interests, choose a model of behavior that seems significant and worthy to you; show your brightness in every more or less noticeable action. Your personal requests will be more expensive than partnerships, so love will be overshadowed. Acting according to your own will (not at the behest of others) will become a matter of honor for you.

This is the right time to come out of the shadows and become brighter than others (ambitious, dominant). Stop hiding, behave as your heart tells you, thereby strengthening your self-esteem. And then pride and self-respect will begin to appear in your every gesture, look or action, in every stylish accessory. Take care of your appearance: add something bright and luxurious to it, do a haircut, start dressing the same way as celebrities who are often in the public eye. Maintain a chic appearance even at home. You can become attractive without unnecessary posing, and as a result, people will begin to look up to you.

They will be inspired by your behavior, and you'll be able to feed off social energy and be receptive to praise and feedback. Once in the spotlight, you will feel in your place and will do everything possible to make you famous, so that people appreciate your actions and appearance. There is no guarantee that everyone will like you, but they'll still perceive you as a successful person. It won't be difficult for you to achieve other people's approval and impress them.

2.2.2. Habits = Freedom

The most surprising and unusual things will happen in the sphere of your habits: there will be a tendency to express yourself in an extraordinary way, to do things differently from others (and not the way you did it before). Atypical preferences will appear in food, clothing, speech, sleeping conditions and personal care; it will seem very strange to other people. You may even shock them with your defiant manner of speech and behavior. But you'll enjoy experimenting with your life using unusual combinations and new technologies. The ideal environment for you is when everything is automated and modern, which will allow you to feel like an advanced person even in small things (from an electric toothbrush to incredible combinations of dishes and bed linen).

Your desire for independence will manifest most clearly in your everyday life: needing free space without restrictions, you won't tolerate control even in everyday matters and will not want to be predictable. You'll set up your living environment the way it suits you, not the way everyone else does. This is a good field for improvisation for you, in terms of everyday actions and access to the necessary benefits of life. You will often try new things without becoming attached to food or the household items that surround you.

You may develop unusual habits and dietary preferences, or a desire to carry out some cool rituals every day. You may pick it up from your friends if you live with them under the same roof (you start trying some fancy diets and procedures together). Or unexpected changes will occur in your life, and you just won't be able to live as before.

2.2.3. Property = Feelings

In terms of property, you'll be satisfied with your life, because you'll be able to make yourself happy at your own expense or inspire other people to give your gifts. You will give them many gifts too - feeling gratitude and sympathy; moreover, you'll give them only the things you would choose for yourself. Many property issues will be inextricably related to relaxation and pleasure: you'll want to add comfort to your life, to create more pleasant living conditions, or just treat yourself to something beautiful, tasty, desirable.

Shopping is likely in the company of your lover or girl friends. You'll tend to valuable and pleasing acquisitions - as an opportunity to reward yourself for past efforts or to fulfill your whim. The main emphasis will be on attractive products that will make your life more enjoyable, and enhance the aesthetic aspect. This could be art, a new clothes, or anything related to beauty and the feminine interests. The period is good to accumulate a stock of "eternal" values that won't depreciate over time: jewelry, collections, currency. With such luggage, you will survive any financial crisis in the future without loss.

By and large, you won't pursue enrichment, because you need things not for the sake of hoarding, but in order to experience pleasure, harmony and comfort thanks to it. Beautiful things will become a source of your inspiration, and beautiful packaging will encourage you purchases magically. You'll get used to surrounding yourself with exquisite things. You'll be picky when it comes to food; you won't eat everything. You will surely become a gourmet and culinary specialist, for whom presentation is extremely important: not only tasty food, but also beautiful presenting. You'll equip your home with practical-to-use appliances to make your life easier. But in seeking to satisfy your needs, you shouldn't turn into a slave of pleasure and comfort.

Many material assets will come from women during the period. They will greatly influence your attitude towards wealth and will inspire you to buy some products. Property transactions with women will be especially profitable (purchase, sale or exchange).

2.2.4. Friends = Security

The period is unlucky for friendship: if there is a desire to make friends with someone or join a new group of friends, then for some reason this will be impossible. Sometimes you won't have an opportunity to meet with friends, or a sad event will occur in their lives that will affect you. Even if you agree to stick together, you'll still end up falling out later.

You won't feel much support from your friends: they seem to be here, but they seem to be gone. Having relied on a friend, you will be disappointed in him/her later, because he/she will show distrust in you, will ruin your mood, won't help you resolve the issue, and cause a hopeless situation. You'll understand that you can't fix it, but you will resist the negativity coming from your friends. This year will dispel all your illusions about friendship.

If you and your friends are connected by some common secrets and obligations, then your communication will be possible only in a closed, non-public area, where strangers are reluctant to be accepted. During such a period, friends often make vows to each other like: "We be one blood, thou and I". If a friend dies or breaks up with you, it'll be very difficult for you to lose him/her ("we are a single entity").

If, together with your friends, you find yourself in a difficult situation and fall under suspicion, they'll begin to put pressure: "We are tied to you, which means we will answer together". You'll have to keep someone's secret, maintain confidentiality, and overcome mistrust. You may even have to hide the fact of your friendship (or keep silent about what your friends are doing). This is typical for friendship with influential people (civil servants or persons from the shadow environment). Your relationship will become fatal because it doesn't depend on your choice. But you will avoid such problems if you refuse contacts with the underworld and dubious people.

2.3. Less significant events at the age 17

The section describes short-term but important events that will occur at the age 17 and won't have consequences for longer than 1 year

2.3.1. Habits + Correction

Success rate: medium

This is a good time to overcome laziness and sloppiness, as well as improve the environment that you see around you every day. You'll be able to give up a useless, infantile habit. A love for cleanliness and hygiene will appear. Self-care, healthy sleep and diet will help you improve your appearance and physical performance. This is also a good time to get rid of bad language and other unwanted attachments that don't bring you credit.

The following positive factors will accompany this: Confidence in your success, the opportunity to gain authority in society, improve and demonstrate your skills

2.3.2. Usual environment - Protest

Severity level: high

Unpleasant surprises will be associated with your relatives (brothers, sisters, etc.) and your neighbors, who will turn out to be strange and intractable people. Even if you know them well and see them every day, sometimes they will shock you with their unpredictable, inappropriate behavior. It's unlikely that you will be happy with uninvited guests. Quarrels and unpleasant proceedings will arise on this basis. You will be outraged by their impulsiveness, arrogance, excessive eccentricity, unwillingness to obey generally accepted norms and maintain discipline.

The district where you live is probably unique in some ways, but this won't be an advantage for you. Informals and ultras may live nearby, or representatives of radical subcultures will hang out there, which will make your life inconvenience. Your courtyard may be covered in tasteless graffiti with unpleasant calls; or some kind of gatherings, rallies or noisy protests will take place there regularly. Someone close to you may be involved in such communities, and ideological contradictions will arise between you. A sudden separation from them is possible.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Low self-esteem, dissatisfaction with your appearance and behavior. Awareness of your shortcomings will prevent you from acting successfully. Aesthetic procedures are not recommended

2.3.3. Residence - Doubts

Severity level: high

Doubts of the period are related to the place of your residence, household issues and real estate. Moving and repairs in your house are undesirable, because changes of this kind will be negative and you'll be prone to making poor choices. You will have to be torn between two houses or share your home with someone who will cause you inconvenience. You may lose your attachment to home (you will no longer feel like a home owner). It's not advisable to rent out your home and move in with someone. There may be an aggravation of legal issues regarding real estate, the need to make a choice that is not in your favor.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Unsuccessful contact with technical support and third parties, the issue will remain unresolved. You shouldn't hire people to do some work; there is a danger that your partners and contractors will let you down

2.3.4. Entertainment + Communication

Success rate: high

A lot of positive communication is expected during the holiday. You will interact with people in a playful, humorous manner. You'll enjoy fun and games that activate your creative mind and public speaking skills. If you take part in a quiz, lottery and public speaking, or begin to share positive impressions in your publications, then you will experience quick success and audience interest in your thoughts (especially if you express it with irony, tell a funny joke, make people laugh in an unusual manner speech and imitation of other person).

Opportunities to have fun in your free time will be actively discussed, and you're unlikely to spend your weekends and holidays in a boring environment. There will be a craving for young companies, pleasant trips, communities of interests, and relaxed communication with people. And also to intellectual fun, where you can show off your intelligence and erudition.

The following positive factors will accompany this: High standards of behavior, successful adoption of good habits

2.3.5. Romance - Obstacle

Severity level: medium

In your intimate life, a situation will occur that will seem hopeless: a loss of feelings, lack of attraction to the opposite sex, sexual frustration is possible.

If you are single, you'll feel sad because you cannot find a suitable partner; or will feel hostility due to other people's advances. If the relationship is just beginning now and has not yet become serious, then you'll be tormented by doubts and suspicions, will become biased.

If you're married, then there may be a deterioration in relationship with your loved one, mistrust of each other due to jealousy. He/she will put pressure on you, show negativity, impose you a feeling of guilt, and you'll resist this behavior and will try to put pressure him/her in return. Don't become a despot for the person you love. Despite your affection, you can hurt each other, will show cruelty. If your partner's behavior raises your doubts, then you'll be tempted to invade his/her personal life (you will start following him/her and reading his/her correspondence, because you will no longer trust him/her). If your suspicions are confirmed, then you'll want to take revenge on the partner in a state of anger. His/her secrecy and infidelity can be a big blow to your self-esteem. After this, the old love will be difficult to revive, and the relationship will no longer be as carefree as before.

If communication with the person is difficult for you and seems futile, then you shouldn't sacrifice yourself for him/her. Love problem is not the end of the world, and if someone underestimated you, this doesn't mean that there is no longer any point in not believing in love. If the feelings weigh you heavily, then it's better to break up (at least for a while).

2.3.6. Love - Vanity

Severity level: medium

Marriage during such a period is not a factor that increases your self-esteem. If you're in a relationship, then friction with your partner is expected due to dictates on his/her part and incompatibility of your tempers: he/she will ignore you, won't show you proper attention, and will hurt your pride. The idea of equality in such a union is questionable: the spouse will be a householder, not you. And because of this, it will seem that your marriage is devoid of harmony and doesn't meet your needs. In response to your partner's neglect, you will also show authority and intolerance; you will experience a feeling of superiority over him/her, - at the moment when the partner fails or loses success. If you value the relationships, then you need to find the strength to resolve interpersonal conflict.

If you're single, then not having a good partner will upset you. It'll be difficult to find someone with whom you can start a serious, worthy relationship. Arrogance, ignorance and high expectations are possible on the part of members of the opposite sex. There will be anti-spirituality, hostility or often squabbles in your relationships.

Don't enter into a relationship for some purpose, - for the desire to get closer to a person more fortunate than you; to share someone else's success, to improve your life through it, and gain a higher status with its help. There will be no sincere love in such conditions, so your communication won't be happy. You shouldn't be with a person who is forced on you by your paternal relatives, - this is an unsuccessful union.

2.3.7. Cooperation + Correction

Success rate: high

The period will delight you with successful business communication and cooperation with third parties. There will be a chance to finally resolve a pending issue (work or personal) and get things moving. At first, the idea of asking for help will not make you enthusiastic, but the people around you will do well. The colleague, manager or contractor you thought was a slacker will show himself to be a skilled worker.

If your work involves the involvement of third-party specialists, then do not be afraid to hire a disabled person or a person with a dubious past - he will do the rough and dirty work well. Even if someone deliberately tries to denigrate and slander him, you will actually be convinced that he is well versed in his business, trustworthy and capable of resolving your issue. Don't believe other people's gossip, but study the resumes of partners and contractors yourself.

The following positive factors will accompany this: Confidence in your success, the opportunity to gain authority in society, improve and demonstrate your skills

2.3.8. Cooperation - Protest

Severity level: medium

Not all business contacts will be successful: unexpected changes and crisis situations are possible due to the fault of third parties. For example, you contact a company whose client you are, but, contrary to your expectations, you don't receive help. Or this will be prevented by a technical failure or strange behavior of the staff. Impossible conditions will be put forward to you, and you'll be nervous due to misunderstanding of others. An employee you hire for personal needs will unpleasantly surprise you and start coming to work whenever he/she wants.

If your activity involves the hiring of a contractor or third-party company, then they will violate your agreement and begin to protest against your demands. During such a period, it's difficult for employees of two departments to do joint work, - everything will go awry (especially when it comes to technical issues, Internet connections, equipment setup).

It's better to avoid cooperation with freelancers and independent specialists. But if you can't do without them, then you should draw up a competent agreement and a clear technical specification so that there will be no gag in your business relationship in the future. Be prepared for the fact that if you hire an outside employee, a stable relationship won't develop between you: it'll be difficult to establish mutual obligations and distribute areas of responsibility. Your partnership will be uneven, you won't be able to plan it and foresee the course of its development. Even if your business alliance is concluded, it may not bring you success.

2.3.9. Risks - Whims

Severity level: medium

The source of your stress will be women. Some of them will put you at risk, point out a danger for which you ain't prepared. You'll have to forget about peace and harmony for a while. And you have to be careful with women, otherwise they will take advantage of your trust and interfere in your relationship with loved ones. It's not recommended to quarrel even with girl friends, not to mention ill-wishers and envious women. It's possible that they have a magical influence, an attempt to manipulate the person you love.

During this period, your feelings have to go through a test: the drama will be felt, a fear for the relationship, and a feeling of predestination will appear. If you're single, then starting a new relationship can be threatening. Don't get too carried away with passion, because inability to manage your feelings will play a malicious trick on you. "Tears never help", it only show your weakness. Avoid extramarital affairs and dangerous flirting. Jealousy and pessimism due to separation is possible, as well as complexes based on love, risk for the sake of love, breakdown due to a stormy temperament. After an acute situation, a noticeable change will occur in your feelings.

If you're married, then there is a risk of quarrel, strange signs and events indicating that your feelings are unstable. Don't have blind trust in your loved one, because even he/she can scare or hurt you. The fear for yourself in this situation will be stronger than the fear of losing your partner, so you'll want to avoid a risky relationship in order to stay safe.

Health

The hardships of life can affect your appearance negatively. It's not recommended to visit a beauty salon. If a woman heals you, she will inevitably make you endure pain.

Woman

Beware of female rival. Some woman may interfere in your relationship with a man and try to separate you.

2.3.10. Beliefs - Protest

Severity level: high

Ideologically, there will be a tendency towards fanciful, overly original ideas. Trying to be independent, you'll begin to follow non-standard beliefs: "The main thing is to be different from everyone else". You'll want to go against established traditions, to break stereotypes, and not observe rituals that are familiar to others (because, in your opinion, it's no sincerity in it). But even if you abide your principles, you can commit a rash act that will provoke a sad turn of events.

Your desire to become an exceptional person can cause anarchism and insubordination: protest against discipline and rules will become your fanatical belief. But people around you will perceive your view strange and incomprehensible. They just won't understand you, will condemn you for not conforming to generally accepted norms, will call you a rebel and a scandalous person who denies everything and creates nothing.

Don't strive for revolution and upheaval just to destroy the existing order. Don't oppose yourself to the ideology that is accepted in society, otherwise you'll become a loner and an outsider with whom no one takes into account. Ideological disputes should be avoided even among your friends, otherwise it will aggravate your relationship.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Breaking habits, behavioral complexes, bad manners, tendency to bad addictions

2.3.11. Target - Doubts

Severity level: high

The motto of this period is: "If you chase two hares, you won't catch either". Your intentions will be too scattered: you have many of them, so it's impossible to achieve everything at once. Multitasking won't help you; you'll just waste your energy. Decide on your priorities and complete tasks one at a time, not simultaneously. One wrong decision can hinder your success, or you'll begin to doubt your capabilities.

If realization of your dream depends on other people, then you won't be able to come to an agreement with them and influence the situation: "I'm waiting, but they keep promising and promising me, and nothing moves". Don't rely too much on others, think more about yourself and your success. Otherwise, you won't be able to avoid difficult choices that will force you to serve other people's goals. Or, in order to get what you want, you'll have to lose in something else. The problem may be purely legal, indicating a lack of your legal literacy.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Unsuccessful contact with technical support and third parties, the issue will remain unresolved. You shouldn't hire people to do some work; there is a danger that your partners and contractors will let you down

2.3.12. Socium + Communication

Success rate: medium

If there is any social problem, then it'll be easier to overcome it verbally: communicate with people positively, demonstrate your original and active mind, voice ideas that are useful for society, - and then success will come to you. Use the period to establish effective business contacts, receive and disseminate important information. People will welcome your messages, hear your call and follow it.

You will achieve the greatest impact in society thanks to your ability to speak, write, perform, and convey your and other person's thoughts to people. They will understand your logic, appreciate your intelligence, mobility and ability to make reasonable decisions. Social networks will become your friend. Good awareness of current issues will help you to establish contacts among young people, bring together partners who can help each other.

The following positive factors will accompany this: High standards of behavior, successful adoption of good habits

2.4. Personality manifestations at the age 17

The section describes the characteristics of your personality that will become pronounced at the age 17

2.4.1. Pride-Personality = Communication-Personality

This is a good time to strengthen your communication skills. Show creative initiative in everything related to commerce, public relations and information transfer. Sometimes increased external activity will prevent you from looking at yourself from the outside, but the main goal of the period is more movement, acquaintances, performances, and trips. Your success will depend on your mental and speech activity.

Your father's personality will give you a lot of thoughts. Or there will just be more talk about him. If you maintain contact with your paternal relatives, then this is a good time to start communicating even more. They will greatly influence what and how you say.

The following factors will accompany this: Appearance, behavior pattern, self-esteem, attitude towards yourself

2.4.2. Vanity-Personality - Wastefulness-Place of work

Severity level: medium

The period is characterized by a tendency to excess, delusions of grandeur and desire to achieve a lot without much effort (invader syndrome). Don't spread yourself too thin, otherwise you won't achieve success and push luck away from you. You may be disappointed that people don't perceive you as an authoritative person (including your paternal relatives). Don't cross someone's borders, don't try to achieve recognition in a foreign society and on a foreign territory, - people will treat you as a foreign body. In such a period, you won't achieve honor with ostentatious generosity, and you won't surprise anyone with the wealth of your resources.

The sphere of life «Place of work» is vulnerable in this context. The following negative factors will affect it: Low self-esteem, dissatisfaction with your appearance and behavior. Awareness of your shortcomings will prevent you from acting successfully. Aesthetic procedures are not recommended

Lack of recognition will force you to fight for your success. But in order to achieve what you want, you'll have to overcome certain obstacles, to pacify your ambition and stop pretending to be a significant person. Get ready for competition and set yourself up for winning.

2.4.3. Relaxedness-Money + Correction-Target

Success rate: high

Spiritually, this is an important and positive period: your attitude towards the world will change for the better, become more tolerant, open and kind. Having gone through the negative experiences, you'll improve yourself and become better, and reveal your strengths. Having overcome some of your shortcomings, you will become a much more liberated person.

The period will even out the unpleasant experience that you had to endure. Negativity won't leave a deep mark on your soul and won't give rise to new fears and worries, because the overall situation will be calm, allowing the error to be corrected in a timely manner.

This positive forecast concerns the category «Target». The following favorable factors will contribute to it: Confidence in someone else's success, despite difficulties. The ability to help others and your loved ones. There is no fear of loss and no reason to worry about them, everything will be fine

2.4.6. Modesty-Worry + Freedom-Results

Success rate: high

This is a good time to emphasize your originality and advancement. Put an unexpected technological method into practice, - it will be effective and arouse public interest. It will work to your advantage that the environment around you is quite calm: against its background, your idea will seem especially bright to people. Favorable for inventor, liberal, progressive person and specialist in the field of social reforms, whose goal is to break the stereotype, stir up the crowd and surprise everyone with the result of his/her work. Take advantage of the public's pliability and invite people to participate in a survey or experiment, - you'll get interesting, unusual results and attract everyone's attention. No one will object to you, everyone will look at your findings and developments with admiration: "This is something new!"

You'll be able to be in the right place at the right time and will instinctively be drawn to everything that can bring you happiness. You will feel more relaxed and calmer in female company, will show your sincerity and openness in communicating with your girl friends, without hiding anything from them. Your confidence will be primarily based on their disposition towards you and on mutual feelings, although your relationship may be superficial.

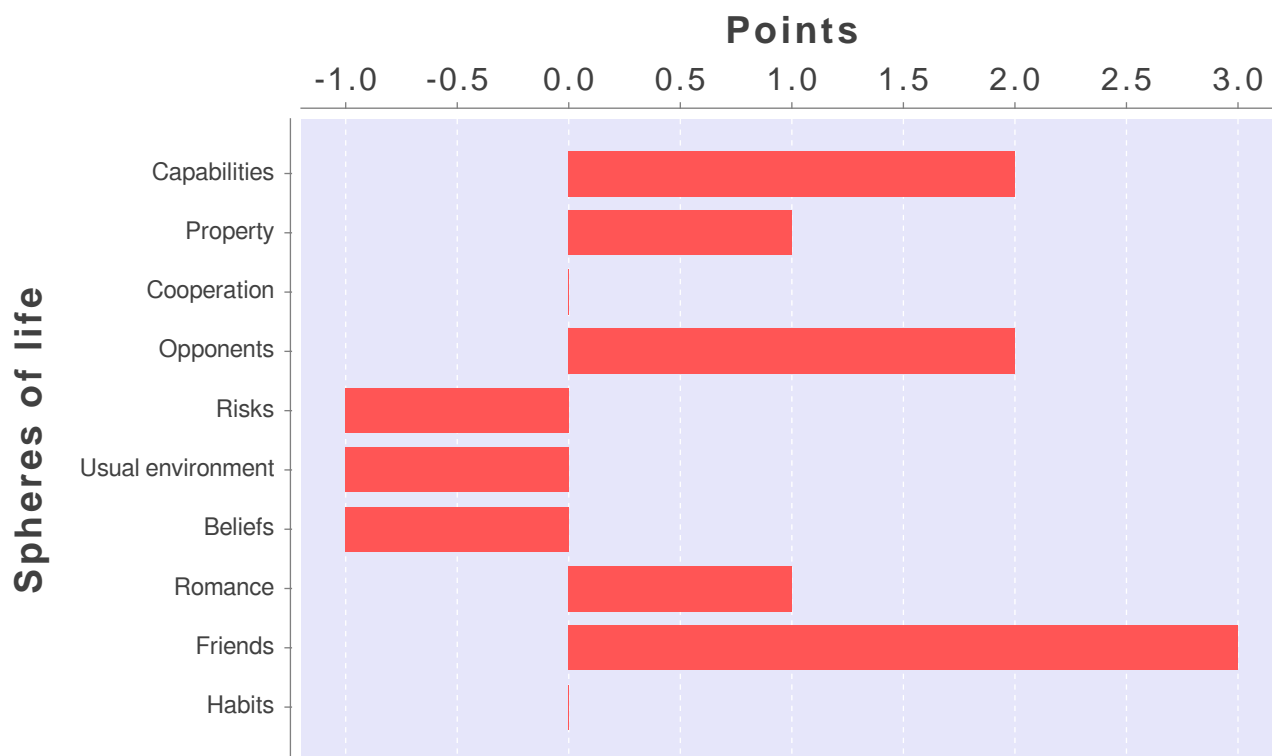

The following factors will accompany this: Self-expression, hobbies, opportunity to show your talent

Age of 18

- Scores above zero indicate success and ease
- Zero values indicate neutral situations
- Scores below zero indicate difficulties and stress

In terms of property, you'll be satisfied with your life, because you'll be able to make yourself happy at your own expense or inspire other people to give your gifts. You will give them many gifts too - feeling gratitude and sympathy; moreover, you'll give them only the things you would choose for yourself. Many material assets will come from women during the period. They will greatly influence your attitude towards wealth and will inspire you to buy some products. Property transactions with women will be especially profitable (purchase, sale or exchange).

3.2.3. Cooperation = Care

During such a period, you feel a strong emotional connection with your business environment: colleagues, contractors, representatives of organizations whose clients you are (clinic, store, service center, child care facility, etc.). The presence of these people will be meaningful to you; you'll become dependent on them and will take any message they send to your heart. For security reasons, it'll be easier for you to contact a manager whom you don't consider a stranger (godfather, matchmaker, maternal relative or acquaintance of your relatives). It will be difficult to ask a stranger for help, tell him/her about your problem and let him/her into your home.

A close female relative will become a companion in your affairs, a co-author, an assistant, and a guide in the service sector. On the one hand, this will benefit your joint activities, but on the other hand, it will increase your dependence on your family. For example, there may be overly emotional discussions about work issues, worries about current tasks, and confusion between the personal and the official. But still, your native environment will be preferable for you, because you will feel safe and comfortable next to people you know well. If you enter into a contract with a relative, the success of your project will be more secure. Even if he/she cannot complete the work you need, he/she will recommend a good outside specialist and help you conclude a contract.

If you consider a partnership with other people, then you're unlikely to become a leader in the business area, but you'll prove yourself to be a good assistant who is always on hand and cares about a healthy atmosphere in the team. Your condescension and sincerity will captivate your colleagues, - they will appreciate your concern and thank you for your understanding. You will always have a kind word and a cup of coffee for them, and that's why they will love you. If you have to fire an employee or refuse to help him/her, you will feel insecure and try not to hurt his/her pride.

Business relationships during such a period are characterized by ebbs and flows, so your importance in the work team will be changeable, and agreements won't always be stable and long-lasting. Contacts with people will be inconsistent: you will cooperate as necessary and only through your relatives. Feeling indecisive in choosing a co-worker or employee, you will look for a non-aggressive partner who is capable of patience and delicacy. Surely you'll need a specialist for your personal needs (nanny, assistant, repairman, home handyman).

3.2.4. Friends = Security

The period is unlucky for friendship: if there is a desire to make friends with someone or join a new group of friends, then for some reason this will be impossible. Sometimes you won't have an opportunity to meet with friends, or a sad event will occur in their lives that will affect you. Even if you agree to stick together, you'll still end up falling out later.

You won't feel much support from your friends: they seem to be here, but they seem to be gone. Having relied on a friend, you will be disappointed in him/her later, because he/she will show distrust in you, will ruin your mood, won't help you resolve the issue, and cause a hopeless situation. You'll understand that you can't fix it, but you will resist the negativity coming from your friends. This year will dispel all your illusions about friendship.

If you and your friends are connected by some common secrets and obligations, then your communication will be possible only in a closed, non-public area, where strangers are reluctant to be accepted. During such a period, friends often make vows to each other like: "We be one blood, thou and I". If a friend dies or breaks up with you, it'll be very difficult for you to lose him/her ("we are a single entity").

If, together with your friends, you find yourself in a difficult situation and fall under suspicion, they'll begin to put pressure: "We are tied to you, which means we will answer together". You'll have to keep someone's secret, maintain confidentiality, and overcome mistrust. You may even have to hide the fact of your friendship (or keep silent about what your friends are doing). This is typical for friendship with influential people (civil servants or persons from the shadow environment). Your relationship will become fatal because it doesn't depend on your choice. But you will avoid such problems if you refuse contacts with the underworld and dubious people.

3.3. Less significant events at the age 18

The section describes short-term but important events that will occur at the age 18 and won't have consequences for longer than 1 year

3.3.1. Habits - Anxiety

Severity level: medium

This aspect indicates household disorder, which contributes to undesirable habits and inconveniences in everyday life. You'll be annoyed by being close to relatives, because they will disrupt your usual routine, begin to put things in the wrong place, and will discover taste and food preferences that are different from yours. This may be due to the need to live side by side with children and maternal relatives for some time. Their presence may be stressful and will increase your resentment and self-doubt. There will be dissatisfaction with your environment, which will be more responsive to the family needs rather than your personal needs. You'll have to deny yourself something for the sake of others, will endure their whims and negative emotions; all this will have a bad effect on your mood.

If your behavior shows a repetition of your mother's actions during the period, then you won't be delighted with such a legacy, you'll begin to get irritated more often.

3.3.2. Capabilities + Security

Success rate: medium

Interest in your activities and inclinations will be very strong, - you'll want to understand what you are most capable of. You'll try to get to the depths of the issues that interest you, and this won't be trivial, not superficial knowledge, sometimes associated with the seamy side of life, with debunking of myths and illusions, with the study of the secrets of society and human nature, with immersion in the nooks and crannies of the psyche. All this will interest you in a positive context, - you'll begin to observe people, "dig" into their mind and get amusing results.

Thanks to your powerful internal energy, fear of the shadow spheres of life will completely disappear. You will even take risks to solve the mystery, will test yourself and others. There may be an interest in security issues, hidden problems, the criminal world, participation in investigations, - they will give you an opportunity for self-expression. And your success will come thanks to your courage, deep knowledge, willingness to engage in secret and detective work (at least at the hobby level), to serve for the benefit of society.

The following positive factors will accompany this: The presence of like-minded people, comfort in communicating with friends. Their support is important for you

3.3.3. Usual environment - Anxiety

Severity level: high

You won't be very comfortable in your living environment. Even surrounded by loved ones and acquaintances, you won't feel protected. This may relate to your area, yard and staircase, - a lot of things will constrain and irritate you there, and it won't give you the feeling of home.

It'll be difficult to maintain good relations with neighbors; There's not enough spiritual closeness and trust between you, but a lot of resentment and negative emotions will appear. Communication with these people will most often be unpleasant: someone will offend you, will be too intrusive, begin to psychologically pressure you, and hurt you with their prejudices and prejudices. You'll get very tired of such fuss.

The discomfort of the environment will exacerbate your fears and excessive attachment to family members. Many failures and emotional experiences will be associated with your brothers, sisters and other relatives on the maternal side. They'll begin to interfere you or become too dependent on you, will have a bad effect on your mood, and create troubles in your everyday life. The relationship between you won't be calm.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Unsuccessful contact with technical support and third parties, the issue will remain unresolved. You shouldn't hire people to do some work; there is a danger that your partners and contractors will let you down

Severity level: medium

In your intimate life, a situation will occur that will seem hopeless: a loss of feelings, lack of attraction to the opposite sex, sexual frustration is possible.

If you are single, you'll feel sad because you cannot find a suitable partner; or will feel hostility due to other people's advances. If the relationship is just beginning now and has not yet become serious, then you'll be tormented by doubts and suspicions, will become biased.

If you're married, then there may be a deterioration in relationship with your loved one, mistrust of each other due to jealousy. He/she will put pressure on you, show negativity, impose you a feeling of guilt, and you'll resist this behavior and will try to put pressure him/her in return. Don't become a despot for the person you love. Despite your affection, you can hurt each other, will show cruelty. If your partner's behavior raises your doubts, then you'll be tempted to invade his/her personal life (you will start following him/her and reading his/her correspondence, because you will no longer trust him/her). If your suspicions are confirmed, then you'll want to take revenge on the partner in a state of anger. His/her secrecy and infidelity can be a big blow to your self-esteem. After this, the old love will be difficult to revive, and the relationship will no longer be as carefree as before.

If communication with the person is difficult for you and seems futile, then you shouldn't sacrifice yourself for him/her. Love problem is not the end of the world, and if someone underestimated you, this doesn't mean that there is no longer any point in not believing in love. If the feelings weigh you heavily, then it's better to break up (at least for a while).

3.3.5. Romance + Loyalty

Success rate: medium

Your personal life will become more harmonious due to opportunity to choose when communicating with representatives of the opposite sex. If you are single, you can have several love affairs at the same time (in different places). And you will become so deft that you can dodge easily and justify yourself. Love adventures will be superficial, but pleasant. This is typical when several fans appear: you will like to flirt with them and respond to their signs of attention.

If you are married, then your relationship will be based on mutual attraction, consent and equality. In intimate terms, everything will turn out favorably, there will be no special dispute. This is a good chance to harmonize relationships through sex and romance, make each other's lives more enjoyable, without focusing on obligations. You will understand each other better through sexual preferences, will behave delicately, learn to be attentive, and resolve conflicts painlessly.

The following positive factors will accompany this: Successful business communication and resolution of issues with representatives of other companies. Collaboration and co-authorship will bring you pleasure and expected results. Workers and contractors will meet your requirements

Severity level: medium

Not all business contacts will be successful: unexpected changes and crisis situations are possible due to the fault of third parties. For example, you contact a company whose client you are, but, contrary to your expectations, you don't receive help. Or this will be prevented by a technical failure or strange behavior of the staff. Impossible conditions will be put forward to you, and you'll be nervous due to misunderstanding of others. An employee you hire for personal needs will unpleasantly surprise you and start coming to work whenever he/she wants.

If your activity involves the hiring of a contractor or third-party company, then they will violate your agreement and begin to protest against your demands. During such a period, it's difficult for employees of two departments to do joint work, - everything will go awry (especially when it comes to technical issues, Internet connections, equipment setup).

It's better to avoid cooperation with freelancers and independent specialists. But if you can't do without them, then you should draw up a competent agreement and a clear technical specification so that there will be no gag in your business relationship in the future. Be prepared for the fact that if you hire an outside employee, a stable relationship won't develop between you: it'll be difficult to establish mutual obligations and distribute areas of responsibility. Your partnership will be uneven, you won't be able to plan it and foresee the course of its development. Even if your business alliance is concluded, it may not bring you success.

3.3.7. Opponents + Security

Success rate: high

If you have a choice of which rival to compete with, then choose the one who is stronger, more influential and has deep knowledge of the matter. A weak opponent is unlikely to interest you, because you'll want an equal and interesting fight, healthy and constructive criticism. With a strong partner, you won't only be able to compete, but also learn his/her way of doing business, gain experience from him/her, which will turn out to be very effective.

If there is a dispute or litigation, then it'll be possible to get out of the deadlock situation, everything will end well for you. You'll learn to subtly sense the motives of people's behavior and their tempers, and you'll be able to manipulate the situation to your advantage.

The following positive factors will accompany this: The presence of like-minded people, comfort in communicating with friends. Their support is important for you

3.3.8. Risks - Whims

Severity level: medium

The source of your stress will be women. Some of them will put you at risk, point out a danger for which you ain't prepared. You'll have to forget about peace and harmony for a while. And you have to be careful with women, otherwise they will take advantage of your trust and interfere in your relationship with loved ones. It's not recommended to quarrel even with girl friends, not to mention ill-wishers and envious women. It's possible that they have a magical influence, an attempt to manipulate the person you love.

During this period, your feelings have to go through a test: the drama will be felt, a fear for the relationship, and a feeling of predestination will appear. If you're single, then starting a new relationship can be threatening. Don't get too carried away with passion, because inability to manage your feelings will play a malicious trick on you. "Tears never help", it only show your weakness. Avoid extramarital affairs and dangerous flirting. Jealousy and pessimism due to separation is possible, as well as complexes based on love, risk for the sake of love, breakdown due to a stormy temperament. After an acute situation, a noticeable change will occur in your feelings.

If you're married, then there is a risk of quarrel, strange signs and events indicating that your feelings are unstable. Don't have blind trust in your loved one, because even he/she can scare or hurt you. The fear for yourself in this situation will be stronger than the fear of losing your partner, so you'll want to avoid a risky relationship in order to stay safe.

Health

The hardships of life can affect your appearance negatively. It's not recommended to visit a beauty salon. If a woman heals you, she will inevitably make you endure pain.

Woman

Beware of female rival. Some woman may interfere in your relationship with a man and try to separate you.

3.3.9. Beliefs - Anxiety

Severity level: high

Morally, a difficult period is expected: you'll feel confusion and disorder in your soul, but there will be no special desire to understand the problems. The meaning of life may be lost due to the presence of grievances against your loved ones: the influence of your family will put negative pressure on you, especially the attitudes and beliefs imposed by your mother. Conversations on the topic of morality will make you sad, and your dislike for the family philosophy and religion will worsen. Clear principles that you define for yourself and that have nothing to do with your family will help you develop self-confidence.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Problems in your personal life, claims against members of the opposite sex. Quarrels, loss of significance of love, lack of help and reciprocity from your partner are likely

3.3.10. Friends + Loyalty

Success rate: high

Relationships with friends will soften thanks to the ability to be polite, compromise and not violate other people's boundaries. In a friendly environment, you'll be known as a "lightning rod" who takes the blow and helps eliminate all contradictions. In the case of a conflict, it won't be difficult for you to accept your friend's point of view; you'll be able to come to an agreement with anyone and reconcile anyone. Thanks to you, former opponents can become like-minded people.

It's possible that new friends will appear in your life who will diversify your life. They will help you, and you will help them. The question of some choice will depend on the opinion of your friend, and you'll make an important decision together, taking into account the interests of all participants. Therefore, your communication will be smooth and unburdened.

The following positive factors will accompany this: Successful business communication and resolution of issues with representatives of other companies. Collaboration and co-authorship will bring you pleasure and expected results. Workers and contractors will meet your requirements

The section describes the characteristics of your personality that will become pronounced at the age 18

3.4.1. Pride-Personality = Communication-Personality

This is a good time to strengthen your communication skills. Show creative initiative in everything related to commerce, public relations and information transfer. Sometimes increased external activity will prevent you from looking at yourself from the outside, but the main goal of the period is more movement, acquaintances, performances, and trips. Your success will depend on your mental and speech activity.

Your father's personality will give you a lot of thoughts. Or there will just be more talk about him. If you maintain contact with your paternal relatives, then this is a good time to start communicating even more. They will greatly influence what and how you say.

The following factors will accompany this: Appearance, behavior pattern, self-esteem, attitude towards yourself

3.4.2. Communication-Habits + Energy-Socium

Success rate: medium

Personally, this is a period of verbal courage: sharpness of your mind and speech will appear, as well as decisiveness and frankness in your expressions, focus in business and ability to translate your ideas into reality. You will present your point of view clearly, so you'll be able to win the argument and convince your listeners (thanks to your wit and positive energy). You will attract people's attention by addressing a topical question and demonstrating leadership in the discussion. And at the same time, you will avoid conflict, but if necessary you will remain adamant.

Physically, you'll become more agile and strong. You will learn to show your strength while maintaining ease and speed in your movements, which will help you achieve good results in sports (running, jumping, tennis, etc.). It's likely that during the period you'll discuss your physical capabilities, participation in competitions, or just think about improving your physical fitness.

This positive forecast concerns the category «Socium». The following favorable factors will contribute to it: High standards of behavior, successful adoption of good habits

3.4.3. Naivety-Love - Limitation-Personality

Severity level: medium

In matters of discipline and rules, you'll become stricter and won't give others any concessions. Such behavior is usually due to a lack of outside help and support. Your need for security and well-being will remain unsatisfied, so you'll become a little callous, will stop responding to people's requests and complaints: "I do this with the best intentions so that you learn to solve your problems yourself". If you don't let them get too close to you, then such detachment will cause loneliness.

The sphere of life «Personality» is vulnerable in this context. The following negative factors will affect it: Problems in your personal life, claims against members of the opposite sex. Quarrels, loss of significance of love, lack of help and reciprocity from your partner are likely

3.4.4. Control-Habits = Feelings-Habits

Your feelings have nowhere to develop during this period: the external situation will extinguish them. Or there will be too many practical, mature, reserved people nearby you who will not support your desire to have fun, who will not see anything special in your artistic talent and the ideas that inspire you. As a result, you will also become more moderate in expressing your feelings. The whims will be forgotten gradually. The idea of saving will dominate in your mind, you'll want to strengthen your status, not just to be happy. You will begin to strive for material stability, and the financial programs planned at this time will be successful, although they will not bring profit immediately.

You will begin to strive for high standards in everything: in artistic creativity, in self-care; you won't experiment with your appearance and style, you will prefer a conservative approach. External signs of aging may appear.

This is not a very good period for love, associated with coldness of feelings and loneliness. If you are in a relationship, you won't receive proper attention from your partner; he/she will not accept your sentimentality, will be inclined to prudence, practicality and responsibility in communicating with you. If you are ready to seek his/her love, then you can try to do it, but reaching his/her heart won't be easy. These circumstances will inevitably drown out your passion and prevent your feelings from spontaneously breaking out. As a result, you will become thrifty not only in money, but also in feelings.

If you live without a partner, you will feel the distance from representatives of the opposite sex even more, and you'll begin to evaluate your personal life more maturely. If there is a desire to get together with someone, then it'll be associated only with serious intentions. Restrictions of the period may be associated with feelings for an unfree partner or a person with a large age difference. He/she won't rush to reciprocate your feelings, or you will have to comply with certain conditions when communicating with him, will extinguish the romantic impulse within yourself, because there are quite understandable reasons for this.

Issues of love during such a period are often related to the material sphere: you can seriously think about love for profit, about relationships of convenience (for the sake of achieving some your goal). And if this happens, then you will get a good position thanks to your partner.

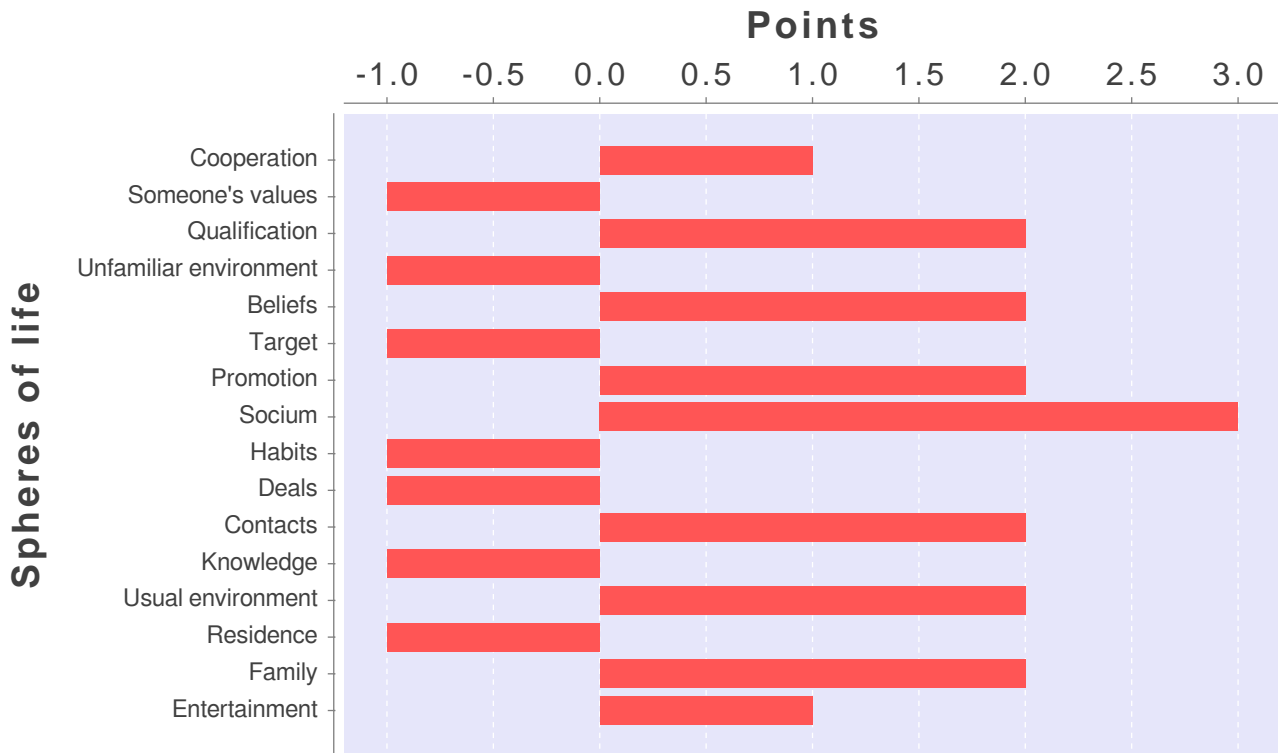

The following factors will accompany this: Daily mechanical actions, stable patterns of behavior, habits associated with your speech, nutrition, sleep, personal care, household items

4.1. 19 age diagram

The diagram summarizes information about your age events and indicates which areas of life will be relevant throughout the year:

- Scores above zero indicate success and ease
- Zero values indicate neutral situations
- Scores below zero indicate difficulties and stress

The forecast for these areas of life is given below

4.2. Significant events at the age 19

The section describes vital, long-awaited, turning-point events, that will occur at the age 19. They will entail changes and will be remembered for a long time

4.2.1. Cooperation = Care

During such a period, you feel a strong emotional connection with your business environment: colleagues, contractors, representatives of organizations whose clients you are (clinic, store, service center, child care facility, etc.). The presence of these people will be meaningful to you; you'll become dependent on them and will take any message they send to your heart. For security reasons, it'll be easier for you to contact a manager whom you don't consider a stranger (godfather, matchmaker, maternal relative or acquaintance of your relatives). It will be difficult to ask a stranger for help, tell him/her about your problem and let him/her into your home.

A close female relative will become a companion in your affairs, a co-author, an assistant, and a guide in the service sector. On the one hand, this will benefit your joint activities, but on the other hand, it will increase your dependence on your family. For example, there may be overly emotional discussions about work issues, worries about current tasks, and confusion between the personal and the official. But still, your native environment will be preferable for you, because you will feel safe and comfortable next to people you know well. If you enter into a contract with a relative, the success of your project will be more secure. Even if he/she cannot complete the work you need, he/she will recommend a good outside specialist and help you conclude a contract.

If you consider a partnership with other people, then you're unlikely to become a leader in the business area, but you'll prove yourself to be a good assistant who is always on hand and cares about a healthy atmosphere in the team. Your condescension and sincerity will captivate your colleagues, - they will appreciate your concern and thank you for your understanding. You will always have a kind word and a cup of coffee for them, and that's why they will love you. If you have to fire an employee or refuse to help him/her, you will feel insecure and try not to hurt his/her pride.

Business relationships during such a period are characterized by ebbs and flows, so your importance in the work team will be changeable, and agreements won't always be stable and long-lasting. Contacts with people will be inconsistent: you will cooperate as necessary and only through your relatives. Feeling indecisive in choosing a co-worker or employee, you will look for a non-aggressive partner who is capable of patience and delicacy. Surely you'll need a specialist for your personal needs (nanny, assistant, repairman, home handyman).

4.2.2. Socium = Courage

The most significant changes are related to the social sphere: there will be a noticeable renewal of the environment, access to a new team - maybe not ideal, but interesting and radically different from what you have before. You'll reconsider the essence of socially useful activities, and will be faced with a breakdown in social consciousness. All this will push you towards revolutionary ideas and reforms that can change the social structure radically. If you become an activist, then people will believe that your efforts will improve their conditions of existence. The main thing is not to cause changes for the sake of changes, then your activities within society will become promising for you, a new round of social formation will begin.

There will be a forced replacement in the team during the period: one of the key persons will leave it. If you decide to move to another team, then you'll have to give up your idle life and make a donation. At first, changing your environment will seem painful, but later you won't regret it, because you'll join a more advanced team, and lost connections and values will quickly be replaced.

The attitude towards social networks changes radically during such a period: you will perceive its essence differently, you can close all your accounts (however, you will return to it later or switch to other means of communication).

4.3. Less significant events at the age 19

The section describes short-term but important events that will occur at the age 19 and won't have consequences for longer than 1 year

4.3.1. Habits - Anxiety

Severity level: medium

This aspect indicates household disorder, which contributes to undesirable habits and inconveniences in everyday life. You'll be annoyed by being close to relatives, because they will disrupt your usual routine, begin to put things in the wrong place, and will discover taste and food preferences that are different from yours. This may be due to the need to live side by side with children and maternal relatives for some time. Their presence may be stressful and will increase your resentment and self-doubt. There will be dissatisfaction with your environment, which will be more responsive to the family needs rather than your personal needs. You'll have to deny yourself something for the sake of others, will endure their whims and negative emotions; all this will have a bad effect on your mood.

If your behavior shows a repetition of your mother's actions during the period, then you won't be delighted with such a legacy, you'll begin to get irritated more often.

4.3.2. Deals - Aggression

Severity level: high

It's better to exclude men from the list of people with whom you are negotiating, - they will create tension in your business. Quarrels and disputes are likely due to joint ventures: who invested more or who helped first. A man who needs your help won't ask for it delicately, but will unceremoniously demand something from you. If you made a promise to him, he will rush you and put pressure on you. Don't lend him money, otherwise you won't see it. Don't allow yourself to be drawn into other people's affairs, even if they force you and refer to the need to urgently resolve the issue, - you'll waste your time and energy uselessly.

Investments in men's business don't pay off during such a period, but, on the contrary, bring losses. You shouldn't bet on sports.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Lack of faith in the best, disruption of plans. Perception of the future doesn't meet your expectations. It's not recommended to build castles in the air and waste your time on unrealistic forecasts

4.3.3. Contacts + Faith

Success rate: medium

During the period, unplanned meetings and strange but pleasant acquaintances with spiritually developed people will occur. If you meet a person who doesn't put pressure on you, is passionate about art and thinks more about the soul than the pragmatic areas of life, then you can trust him/her. Romantic trips are expected within familiar territory without a specific route (just according to your mood and inspiration), boating and other water forms of transport.

Your mind and communication skills will take a creative direction: there will be more conversations about music, poetry and art in general. You will subscribe to cultural and music publications, start listening to radio and podcasts more often, and purchase musical literature.

Spontaneous communication with complete strangers is possible. Psychological issues, the desire to share your experiences, to talk about what you dream about and what you see in your dreams will come to the fore. You may receive romantic messages (including from an unknown sender), communicate on behalf of a fairy-tale and mystical character, love parables and allegories, subscribe to cultural and musical publications, purchase musical literature.

You'll want to put everything good that you feel on paper: in a fit of inspiration, you can write a song, a poem or a story, publish a creative note, or start blogging under a pseudonym. And there will be no clearly thought-out plan, but your feelings will take on a figurative, intimate form, which means it'll be understandable to other people.

The following positive factors will accompany this: High standards of behavior, successful adoption of good habits

4.3.4. Knowledge - Vanity

Severity level: high

If you want to learn something from scratch just for the sake of pride, then a difficult period awaits you: a lack of knowledge and misunderstanding of a new topic will reduce the chances of success and undermine the confidence that you will master the theory well. Rapid progress in a new subject is not expected: you'll understand that you ain't ready to acquire new knowledge yet (or your pride won't allow you to return to the status of a beginner). Once you get excited about a new idea, you will soon abandon it, especially if it requires additional effort or turns into a routine. There may be difficulties in studying due to a lack of good literature, intelligent authors and videos.

A good mentor (or someone else's positive example) could support you during the period, but if you won't find him/her, then you're unlikely to cope with the task and won't be able to overcome moral and intellectual difficulties. Don't reject other people's help, wanting to learn everything yourself.

If you keep in touch with your paternal relatives, then you should take into account that these people are not suitable for you as mentors (because they're not able to explain everything to you and support you at the beginning of your journey). You won't learn anything from them; on the contrary, they'll become a source of negative experience.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Low self-esteem, dissatisfaction with your appearance and behavior. Awareness of your shortcomings will prevent you from acting successfully. Aesthetic procedures are not recommended

4.3.5. Usual environment + Feelings

Success rate: medium

You'll find harmony when surrounded by women (female neighbors, relatives or acquaintances). In their company, it'll be easiest for you to express yourself and feel comfortable (this mean friendly support and personal sympathy). Good relationships will develop with sisters, aunts, daughters-in-law, girl friends, etc.: common tastes and interests will be revealed; material well-being is possible through them. You'll be loved by women around you. If a nice woman settles next to your house, she'll come to meet you, bring you goodies, give you a compliment, and share with you a culinary recipe or beauty secrets.

The period will add aesthetics to your everyday life. The area of your residence will become more attractive: beautiful alleys and places to relax will appear; the grounds will be landscaped and flower beds will be arranged. You'll be pleased to live in such an environment.

The following positive factors will accompany this: Good well-being, desire to acquire property, spend money, pay attention to material values. The level of your requests will match your capabilities

4.3.6. Residence - Limitation

Severity level: high

There is no escape from economic problems during the period, and for some time the place of your residence will seem cold and meager. Everyday life will begin to irritate you, especially if some old problems arise (something breaks, living conditions worsen). Because of this, home life will become sadder, more labor-intensive, poorer, and cramped. There won't be enough funds for household needs, so your housing needs will become more modest. If you're far from your homeland, then unpleasant news will come from there.

If you don't have your own home yet, then the prospect of finding it will be impossible, and you'll feel homeless.

If you're the owner of an outdated property, then there will be concern about this, - due to inability to sell and rent it out. It's related not only the apartment, but maybe a personal plot that has stopped bearing fruit; a country house that fell apart and became uninhabitable; a garage that no one needs.

The following negative factors will accompany this: Breaking habits, behavioral complexes, bad manners, tendency to bad addictions

Sometimes you'll have to live in meager conditions, having only the most necessary things - a primitive way of life and lodging for the night.

4.3.7. Family + Pride

Success rate: high

If you maintain contact with your paternal relatives, then your relationship will become warmer: you'll be proud of them, you'll feel like a loved child; or feel fatherly care from another person. The opinion of successful family member is of particular importance during such a period. You'll understand that they are your reliable support, they will always support you.

In general, this is a period of happy family life: relationships between relatives will become stronger, and everyone will willingly submit to the householder's influence. You'll become the keeper of your family traditions.

The following positive factors will accompany this: Increased self-esteem, physical relaxation, desire to experience a new model of behavior. You will be pleased with yourself

4.3.8. Entertainment - Risk

Severity level: medium

The sphere of recreation and entertainment is fraught with many risks during the period. If a holiday or cultural event is planned, its holding will be in jeopardy. The passion for games and pleasure can turn into danger, so choose not too extravagant attractions and adventures. Lack of caution can cause loss; a stupid joke can cause irreversible circumstances.

The threat during such a period lies precisely in the gaming atmosphere, so don't aggravate the conflict with people during leisure time, avoid jokes that may offend someone. Refrain from participating in risky competitions and don't use dangerous tricks and technologies during the holiday. Even if you really want to test yourself, assess the situation soberly, follow safety precautions, so as not to suffer from the consequences and injuries later. When applying for a loan, insurance, inheritance, banking agreement or lease of property, it's better not to deal with a man, - a conflict, tense relationships, difficulties in withdrawing money from the payment system, quarrels over the performance of the property are possible. Because of this, your efforts will sometimes be like Sisyphean labor: while you work long and hard towards the result, you still won't achieve it - due to a lack of funds or your own tightness, slowness, and excessive "prudence". Trying to balance between ambitions and well-being, you will limit your capabilities and prevent it from developing. Or an unpleasant event will occur that won't let you achieve what you want and will delay obtaining the result.

The reason for the delay may be the lack of help from elders. It will be a shame if your previous goal is lost because of them. To make your life easier, don't associate the period with long-term tasks and difficult to fulfill desires, - limit yourself to small requests that don't require a complex sequence of actions. Collaboration and co-authorship will bring you pleasure and expected results. Workers and contractors will meet your requirements

4.4.6. Control-Habits = Feelings-Habits

Your feelings have nowhere to develop during this period: the external situation will extinguish them. Or there will be too many practical, mature, reserved people nearby you who will not support your desire to have fun, who will not see anything special in your artistic talent and the ideas that inspire you. As a result, you will also become more moderate in expressing your feelings. The whims will be forgotten gradually. The idea of saving will dominate in your mind, you'll want to strengthen your status, not just to be happy. You will begin to strive for material stability, and the financial programs planned at this time will be successful, although they will not bring profit immediately.

You will begin to strive for high standards in everything: in artistic creativity, in self-care; you won't experiment with your appearance and style, you will prefer a conservative approach. External signs of aging may appear.

This is not a very good period for love, associated with coldness of feelings and loneliness. If you are in a relationship, you won't receive proper attention from your partner; he/she will not accept your sentimentality, will be inclined to prudence, practicality and responsibility in communicating with you. If you are ready to seek his/her love, then you can try to do it, but reaching his/her heart won't be easy. These circumstances will inevitably drown out your passion and prevent your feelings from spontaneously breaking out. As a result, you will become thrifty not only in money, but also in feelings.

If you live without a partner, you will feel the distance from representatives of the opposite sex even more, and you'll begin to evaluate your personal life more maturely. If there is a desire to get together with someone, then it'll be associated only with serious intentions. Restrictions of the period may be associated with feelings for an unfree partner or a person with a large age difference. He/she won't rush to reciprocate your feelings, or you will have to comply with certain conditions when communicating with him, will extinguish the romantic impulse within yourself, because there are quite understandable reasons for this.

Issues of love during such a period are often related to the material sphere: you can seriously think about love for profit, about relationships of convenience (for the sake of achieving some your goal). And if this happens, then you will get a good position thanks to your partner.

The following factors will accompany this: Daily mechanical actions, stable patterns of behavior, habits associated with your speech, nutrition, sleep, personal care, household items

4.4.7. Doubts-Cooperation - Indifference-Target

Severity level: high

A complex, ambiguous situation is expected, and when you try to resolve it, you won't show yourself in the best way, choosing the tactics of inaction and silent acquiescence. Feeling uncertainty, you'll begin to dissemble and hesitate in the hope that the problem will be solved by itself. However, you shouldn't put up with this and sit idly by, otherwise you'll become a victim and get used to regret (this is destructive, infantile behavior).

The cause of the dilemma may be your own failure, so try not to make mistakes, otherwise you'll find yourself in a situation where there is practically no winning option. Avoid hypocrisy and conformism, don't commit actions for which you will be ashamed.

Negotiations in such a period are difficult because there is no desire to take into account other people's interests. You will look for benefits in everything, but it's unlikely that you will find it. Even if you have not developed your own opinion yet, you'll perceive other people's views with doubt. There is a risk of misassessing the situation and making the wrong decision. And you're unlikely to realize the responsibility for the choice, especially if another person imposes it on you (you will shift all the blame onto him). Avoid pretense and lies, don't make life difficult for others, otherwise you'll be perceived as an unreliable companion.

The sphere of life «Target» is vulnerable in this context. The following negative factors will affect it: Unsuccessful contact with technical support and third parties, the issue will remain unresolved. You shouldn't hire people to do some work; there is a danger that your partners and contractors will let you down

The period is very energetic in terms of initiative. Your spirit and body will be strong, you'll be very tenacious and overcome the harsh circumstances that arise. There are many risky situations expected that will give you motivation to action and allow you to prove yourself as a leader. But at the same time, you will act out of selfish interests, because your temper will develop more aggression; there will be a tendency to be pushy and a desire to change everything.

Energy in such a period is maximally focused on achievements. The reforms carried out in the external environment will fully allow you to manifest yourself. Changes and obstacles won't frighten you, - you will move forward with the inexorability of a black-top paver. In fact, this is a time of new beginnings, which is often accompanied by an attempt to find your place in the world and reconsider personal aspirations. At work and at home, you'll find new and more efficient ways to spend your energy. And for this reason, you will initiate some changes yourself.

But you should be careful when taking initiative, because there will be a strong desire to break everything down and rebuild it. Since you will act very quickly, your heroism will have a destructive effect on the situation. As a result, you may go off the chosen path and in a hurry choose a radically new, risky direction that will become relevant to you in the coming year.

The following factors will accompany this: Success, professionalism, reputation

Health

This is an extraordinary period for physical activity: a craving for extreme sports is possible (martial arts, military affairs, activities associated with danger and heavy loads). You'll have a different attitude towards your physical form, and will become interested in energy-intensive physical labor. In terms of sports, you can change the gym, trainer and training program.
